

The Love of My Father

words & music by C. Denise Young

(1) Deep in my heart, deep in my soul, Deep in the canyons of my mind
Was buried a lie, woven in truth, Trying to steal away my Father's best . . .
But I'll not take, or settle for less, All of the wrong I've done, confess
And I will return to where I belong, My place is in my Father's House!

I need the love, love, I need the love of my Father
I need the love, love, I need the love of my Father

(2) Deep in my heart, deep in my soul, Deep in the canyons of my mind
Was buried a wound, layered in truth, Trying to plant a seed of bitterness . . .
But it can't stay, it's in the past Meant for my harm, He'll use it for my best.
And I will run home to where I belong, My place is in my Father's House!

Love heals (love heals) Love frees (love frees)

Your love (Your love) my Father, is changing me

Love Love (repeat)

Love of my Father, Love of my Father (repeat)

(3) Deep in my heart, deep in my soul, Deep in the canyons of my mind
Is buried the truth, covered in love, and I am free to have the Father's best . . .
And I will stay, close to His heart And I'll embrace the Father's tenderness
And I will live where I belong, My place is in my Father's House!

I have the love, love, I have the love of my Father

I have the love, love, I need the love of my Father

Unconditional love of my Father

Supernatural love of my Father

Inconceivable love of my Father

Unshakeable love, Uncontainable love

Immeasurable love of my Father
